

FRANKENSTEIN

STEP BY STEP GUIDE

By multi-award winning special effects makeup artist, Julie Tattam.

What you will need:

- White solid face paint (Global Colours brand)
- Baby Blue solid face paint (Global Colours brand)
- Dark Blue solid face paint (Global Colours brand)
- Strong Black solid face paint (Global Colours brand)
- Yellow solid face paint (Global Colours brand)
- Fine paint brush: Round #2 Global Colours brush
- Medium paint brush: Round #4 Global Colours brush
- Large paint brush: Flat 3/4 inch Global Colours brush
- Sponge

1 Gel the hair back off the face. Apply baby blue face paint to the whole face with a sponge, making sure to cover the eyebrows well.

2 Using a sponge, apply dark blue in the eye sockets, under the cheekbones and in the temples and blend the two blues where they meet. Draw a thin line of black face paint under the lower lashes. Rub with your finger to smudge.

3 Now draw thin blue dark lines as shown above to create the cut line out of both corners of the mouth. Rub these lines with a dry brush or the edge of a sponge to smudge/shade slightly. Colour the bottom lip black. Lightly sponge black face paint down each side of the nose and slightly wider at the tip, to give the illusion of a flared nostrils.

4 With a fine brush, paint in the cut lines on the eyebrows with dark blue face paint. With a thin brush and black face paint, add fine stitches to the cut lines on the mouth and eyebrows, then repeat in white face paint as a highlight. (Optionally you may also add some tiny stitches down the outside of the nose.)

5 Now paint in the cut lines on the forehead with dark blue face paint, add stitches in black and highlight in white as above. Lastly, with a large brush, run black face paint along and through the hairline, creating Frankenstein's fringe. Carry the black paint up into the hair if permitted.

6 To add a fun surprise element, ask the model to close their eyes (very important or it will smudge!). Draw a white almond-shaped "eye" right across the top eyelid and fill with white. Outline in black. Inside the circle, draw a smaller yellow dot, with a tiny black dot in the centre. Keep eyes closed for 3 minutes. Once dry, your model can now open and close their own eyes to reveal Frankenstein's yellow eyeballs. Your look is complete!
